NEOVEST WINS WATERS MAGAZINE 2017 BEST BROKER-SUPPLIED TECHNOLOGY AWARD

New York, 14 Nov. 2017 – Neovest, Inc., the leading broker-neutral trading solution, has been named the Best Broker-Supplied Technology for 2017. The award was announced at the 11th annual Waters Buy-Side Technology Awards ceremony, held at the May Fair Hotel, in London, on Friday, November 3, 2017.

The award recognizes excellence in technology and services provided by a broker or prime broker to its buy-side clients. Further, the aim of the award is to highlight leading technologies and vendors in their areas of expertise. Nine judges, comprised of five buy-side-focused technology consultants and four of Buy-Side Technology's journalists, decided on the awards.

Lynn Cannizzaro, Director of Trading Services at Pershing, stated, “BNY Mellon’s Pershing has had a great relationship with Neovest for over a decade. The success of our collaboration is largely due to a tight integration between the Neovest and Pershing systems. This has allowed us to deliver a seamless product offering to our clients and further enhance their ability to succeed as they trade in markets around the world.” Ms. Cannizzaro concluded, “We offer Neovest our warm congratulations for this well-deserved award and look forward to many more years of successful work together.”

“We appreciate the great broker partnerships we have developed and maintained over the years and look forward to growing and strengthening these relationships in the future,” Greg Cook, Neovest’s CEO, said. “Our focus is to provide the finest trading solution possible for our customers. Having strong relationships, combined with the ability and willingness to integrate key partnering technologies into our high performing infrastructure and system will ensure we continue to meet the various goals of our customers.”
